Many Fathers Attend Parent-Teacher Night

Double Quartet Pleases With Songs; Schrepfer Speaks on Government

"Father's Night," held by the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association at the Narberth Public School, Monday night, was a huge success, for K. L. Stevens, chairman, was rewarded with a large attendance of fathers, who were eagerly interested in the program and the work of the organization.

Henry A. Frye gave the invocation and the Salute to the Flag was led by Girl Scout Elaine Starr. Mrs. Wesley P. Dunnington, chairman of the Study Group, reported that there was a most gratifying attendance at the last meeting and is looking forward to having a still larger one at the meeting of this group at 10.30 A. M. on November 10, in the American Legion Room of the Community Building, when Mary Wentworth McConaughy will speak on "Those Emotions of Yours." At one time Miss McConaughy was consultant psychologist at Mt. Holyoke College.

An innovation of the program was a double male quartet, who sang several groups of songs. They were: Russell S. Basler, Jr., James Drennan, Henry A. Frye, C. W. Tapp, E. S. Brown, Lewis Easby, T. A. Elwood and Owen Schmidt. The accompanist was Mrs. Mildred W. Bailly.

Speaker of the evening was Frank A. Schrepfer, whose topic was the "Modern Trend of Government," in which he explained the basic principles of government of Italy, Germany and Russia, and compared it to that of the United States.

Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

A dessert luncheon and bridge party sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association will be held next Wednesday afternoon, in the Community Building, on Windsor avenue.

Mrs. H. F. Darnes, chairman of the Finance and Budget Committee, is in charge, and the public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets are 50 cents each, and may be obtained from Mrs. Darnes.

Division Supervisor Urges Conservation

F. A. Myers Asks Sportsmen Not to Kill Game Wantonly

A plea to sportsmen not to kill game wantonly was made by F. A. Myers, division supervisor of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, speaking before the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, Wednesday evening at the Narberth Community Building.

Mr. Myers discussed the game laws and their enforcement, with particular reference to the deer season.

New members voted into the club are George Stewart, Jr., Ardmore; C. S. Ryan, Philadelphia, and S. Arnold Peck, Ardmore Park.

The annual participation in awards of sportsmen's equipment was announced to be held December 15.

Monday evening the local club was host to about 75 members from various units in the Montgomery County Federation of Sportsmen Clubs.

At this session it was announced that 10,000 trees for planting along county streams would be available in the spring and it was requested that Boy Scout troops aid in this work.

The Federation is sponsoring a big shoot October 30 at the Eastern State Penitentiary grounds at Graterford.

Mrs. Wilson Resigns as Vice-Chairman; Durnin to Continue as Leader

Lower Merion and Narberth Democrats formally opened their election campaign on Monday night with a rally at headquarters, 12 Cricket avenue, Ardmore.

Frank J. Bradley, Norristown attorney and Montgomery County Democratic chairman, reviewed the accomplishments of the Earle Administration and predicted victory for the Democratic ticket on November 2.

Other speakers included Charles Lachman, Cynwyd estates, candidate for township treasurer; Henry Friedman, Bryn Mawr, magistrate candidate; A. Paul Shalet, Cynwyd, and Mrs. McCarthy Hanger, Bala, candidates for school director; Joseph Magarity, candidate for re-election as Narberth magistrate; Joseph McElhatton, West Conshohocken burgess and candidate for jury commissioner. R. Meade Smith, Haverford committeeman, presided.

Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, Rosemont, resigned as vice-chairman and Mr. Smith was elected as her successor.

John T. Durnin, Penn Wynne, who recently resigned as chairman, announced that differences had been settled and that he would continue as chairman.

Young Republicans to Hear of Amendments

A meeting of the Young Republican Club of Narberth has been called for next Thursday evening, when State Representative John H. Longaker, of Pottstown, will speak.

Mr. Longaker will discuss and explain the Constitutional Amendments to be voted on at the general election next month. The meeting, to be held at the American Legion room in the Community Building, will begin at 7.45.

The Three B's

A Bigger and Better Bazaar will be a good slogan to adopt this year in referring to the Methodist Bazaar, the annual December event of Narberth, for it really will be bigger and better than ever before. Committees for the various tables are working hard to make their tables as attractive as possible. The date set is December 4. Jot it down in your date book now while you think of it so you won't make any other engagements to prevent your coming to the usual good supper that will be served that night. Watch for further announcements.

Needlework Guild Sewing

The Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild will hold its sewing and business meeting in the Community Building, next Wednesday, beginning at 10 o'clock.

This is the last sewing before the annual ingathering on November 10, at the Lutheran Church.

As there is an urgent demand for clothing, it is hoped all who possibly can will come out and help sew.

Bring a box luncheon. Tea and coffee will be served.

Realistic Setting Promised by Players

Wireless Station Scene Feature of "Petticoat Fever" Tonight, Tomorrow

One of the outstanding features of tonight's performance of the Players' production of "Petticoat Fever," that delightful comedy success, will be the special setting built and painted by a committee headed by Joseph Hongler and ably assisted by George Werner, Roger Burns, Bill Farmer, Bill Clipsham and Jack Clarke.

The setting shows a government wireless station on the coast of Labrador in mid-winter and is perhaps one of the most realistic settings ever produced by the Players. It proves incidentally that the handicap of moving to Elm Hall, Narberth, in connection with the preparations for the first play were completely overcome by an enthusiastic committee.

With such capable favorites in the lead as John Flynn and Grace Werner a most excellent evening's entertainment may be looked for tonight and tomorrow night, and those who find that the spoken play after all is still the most interesting will be well rewarded by their attendance.

The production is under the able direction of Faith Farmer, whose handling of "This Thing Called Love," in 1936, was one of the outstanding successes of the Narberth Players. Assisting is Blanche Hongler.

Committee Named to Study Narberth School Lighting

A committee of Mrs. H. R. Rinehart, Robert C. Collins and W. J. Drennan was named by Dr. LeRoy A. King, president of the Narberth School Board, Tuesday night, to study lighting in the borough school building and to report its recommendations to the November Board meeting.

The Board increased compensation of substitute teachers to $5 per day.

Zig-Zag Driver Faces Court

Ernest McKenna, Yeadon salesman, was arrested last week-end in Narberth by Officers Brady Utz and Thomas W. Merkle.

According to police, his auto was zig-zagging at Wynnewood road and Chestnut avenue.

Magistrate H. C. Fritsch held McKenna for county court under $500 bail on a drunken driving charge and fined him $15 on a reckless driving count.

J. L. Minick, of Windsor avenue, Narberth, was the guest speaker Monday night at the Photographic Guild of Philadelphia. Mr. Minick, assistant to the Electrical Engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, gave an illustrated travelogue on the mountains of central Pennsylvania.

Fred H. Hurd, of Chestnut and Essex avenues, has been appointed chairman of the Guild's Program Committee.

Community Library Installs Equipment

Efficiency and Appearance Improved by Rearrangement in Building

New equipment, recently authorized for purchase by the Board of Trustees of the Narberth Community Library has been installed. There are three additional sections of standard shelves in the reading room, making it possible to place the related groups—Travel, History, International Mind Alcove, Pennsylvania Collection and Reference History—together in the same room. It also relieves the main room shelves of overcrowding. A new card catalog for the use of the public places the old file at the disposal of the library staff for such special files as the shelf list, and orders and requests. Another much-needed piece of equipment is an additional metal file for pictures and pamphlets, doubling the library's previous capacity for such material.

Two wall-magazine racks to obviate the necessity for placing magazines on the reading tables have been ordered. Habitués of the library's reading room will appreciate the elbow-room they will acquire.

The shelves and filing cases have been purchased from funds appropriated by the Borough Council, the magazine racks are the gift of Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood.

The librarian, Miss Clara E. Follette, is attending the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Library Association, which is being held at York, Pennsylvania, August 21, 22 and 23.

Corsages and Free Admissions Will Feature Egyptian Anniversary Week

In celebration of its tenth anniversary, the Egyptian in Bala-Cynwyd will this Saturday usher in a week of surprises, in keeping with its policy of innovations. The theatre, built ten years ago by the late Patrick J. Lawler, under Joseph Conway's management, has won commendation for its many novel stunts that have succeeded—such as balloting for Request Week, annual expression of public choice of repeat shows; complete program of short subjects, winning wide popularity; Bank Night, three years at the Egyptian, and recently adopted by nearly every other theatre in the state; purchase abroad of foreign language films for premiere presentation in this area; morning performances designed primarily for small children, that have won approval of parents and children alike; and candidly honest advertising that enables the public to rely on Showman Conway's judgment in recommending good shows as well as in selecting them.

Bowing to public demand, Mr. Conway this Friday and Saturday is repeating "Rose Marie," the beautiful drama in which Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald made their biggest hit, singing Rudolf Friml's lovely melodies. Beginning his Anniversary Week, Mr. Conway, who believes in saying it with flowers, will on Saturday night present a corsage to every woman in the audience.

Monday night, all couples who this month are celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary, are invited to be the Egyptian's guests on its anniversary for the showing of "The Toast of New York." The only requirement for admission is a marriage certificate dated any time in October, 1927.

Fashion Show Feature of Narberth Women's Club Open Luncheon

129 Women See Models in Newest Styles; Schedule is Listed

HOSPITAL GIVEN $25.00

The silhouette of 1900, sequins and dots of gold on black, and hats with tall-pointed crowns were outstanding at the fashion show, which followed the open luncheon of the Women's Community Club of Narberth at Green Hill Farms Tuesday. One hundred and twenty-nine members and guests saw models, under the direction of Miss Mildred Jay, display modes from the sheer silk or warm rabbit wool morning negligee on through the day to the evening gown of tulle over taffeta or of heavy brocade.

A silver offering of $25 for the Bryn Mawr Hospital was taken up. Mrs. E. W. Heymann, president of the club presided.

Mrs. E. B. Hoskins, chairman of new membership, asked that any guests at the luncheon interested in joining the club get in touch with her, to help her reach her goal of 100 new members. She has ten signed names to be voted upon by the board at their meeting Tuesday morning at 10.30 at the home of the president.

Mrs. Joseph Gurbarg, chairman of Literature and International Relations, announced that the group will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry F. Dever, with Mrs. P. A. Wales as co-hostess. "The Return to Religion" by Henry C. Link will be reviewed by Mrs. H. A. Frye. Religion in a lighter vein, through the eyes of a little colored boy, will be taken up by Mrs. C. A. Farmer in her review of "Their Eyes were Watching God" by Zora Thurston. A dessert luncheon will be served.

Mrs. J. A. Hongler, chairman of education, said that the art and education departments would combine for a trip to view the cathedral at Bryn Athyn this Friday, leaving from Mrs. Hongler's home at 1.30. She also announced the opening of a

Talk on Advertising Given Rotary Club

Message Should be Direct to Buyer, Ralph S. Dunne Tells Members

"Advertising should be a direct message to the man or woman who is interested in your merchandise at the time when he or she has particular need for it," Ralph S. Dunne told members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, Tuesday, in an address on "Moving Your Merchandise." Mr. Dunne presented newspaper and magazine advertisements to illustrate his points.

Preparation of copy is vitally important, he said, pointing out that an insurance company received 2,300 orders for a booklet titled "March—the Danger Month," and 90,000 requests for a pamphlet called "Do You Want To Get Ahead?"

He also discussed window displays which, he said, often have too general an appeal. An attractive window may bring only admiration; make your appeal to the "ultimate consumer," he said.

Borough Republican Committee Urges "Straight" Party Vote

At a meeting of the Narberth Republican Committee this week, endorsement was given to all G. O. P. candidates nominated at the September Primaries.

The committee also is instructing all party workers to urge citizens to vote "the straight Republican ticket" at the November 2 election.

Committee members are Charles V. Noel, Mrs. Louise V. Cockrill, John C. Batchelor, Mrs. Ethel Williams, W. D. R. Evans, Mrs. Margaret Griswold.

The Cynwyd Club will present a "Harvest Dance" tomorrow night at the clubhouse under the chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. E. Harmon Friel. On November 6, the feature dance of the Fall season, the "Hobo Dance," will be given by the Entertainment Committee.

3 Hurt, Antiques Burn in Bryn Mawr Blaze

Narberth Fire Chief Notifies Owner That Home is Ablaze

Three persons were injured and several valuable antique "collector's pieces" including a "priceless four-poster bed" were destroyed when fire burned a garage and servants quarters on the Bryn Mawr estate of James Leon Alexander, early Saturday.

Among the motorists who notified Alexander of the blaze were Charles V. Noel, Narberth fire chief and treasurer of the Montgomery County Republican Committee, and W. D. R. Evans, Narberth G. O. P. committeeman and member of the borough Board of Adjustment. They were on their way to the court house at Norristown, and helped move furniture from the house.

The injured were Alice McGuigan, a domestic, who injured both shins in a fall; Michael J. Gavin, Bryn Mawr fireman, overcome by smoke, and Joseph Corry, Merion Fire Company of Ardmore, cut right hand.

The fire was extinguished after two hours by firemen from the Bryn Mawr, West Conshohocken and Ardmore companies.

Choral Invites Public to Attend "Hearing"

Courtroom Atmosphere Prevails as "Trial by Jury" Goes Into Rehearsal

The first "hearing" of the "Trial by Jury" (the Choral's fall Gilbert and Sullivan operetta) was conducted to the satisfaction of the director, jury and spectators—principals not being required to appear—at the home of James Tilbury Monday evening.

The courtroom (apologies to Mrs. Tilbury) was well filled by old faces and quite a number of new ones, proving that the Membership Committee has seen its duty and done it. However, you do not need a special invitation to witness the progress of this "Trial."

The "case" will be continued next Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shinn, 107 Maple avenue, Bala, at 8 o'clock sharp. Members of the chorus fill the jury box and courtroom, while the defendant, plaintiff, judge, et cetera, are sung by the soloists. So do come and meet the perfectly grand people who have been responsible for those splendid Gilbert and Sullivan performances of the past and see for yourself—one trial will convince you—you'll stick—F. D.

"Good Start," Says Chairman Pew in Addressing 1000 Workers

More than $165,000 in gifts to the Bryn Mawr Hospital's $1,000,000 "pay-the-mortgage" campaign already has been pledged.

This was announced by Arthur E. Pew, Jr., executive committee chairman of the drive, as he presided over a report meeting at Goodhart Hall, Bryn Mawr College, last night.

Enthusiasm was the order of the evening as almost 1000 of the captains, generals, commanders and privates of the hospital's "campaign army" gathered for the first report meeting.

"This is a good start, but we have a long way to travel before we can say we have won our victory," warned Mr. Pew.

Also present to urge members of their committees to redoubled efforts were Mrs. Horace B. Hare, chairman of the women's division, and Edwin W. Ehmman, who heads the men.

"Wild and Woolly" Next Attraction at Suburban

Jane Withers, clever child actress, is a feudist in her latest picture, "Wild and Woolly," which comes to the Suburban Theatre, Ardmore, this Saturday, for a three-day engagement. Jane has her troubles with Jackie Searl, and she is ably abetted by Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer and Douglas Scott.

Meanwhile her grandfather, Walter Brennan, carries on his own fight against the town banker, Berton Churchill. This feud is patched up, however, when Jane exposes a plot by gangsters to rob the bank.

Whoops! Mr. Bigby Busby has yanked off the leg of a beautiful chicken roasted for tomorrow's bridge luncheon. No wonder Bess is testy!
Time was when she wouldn't be so well prepared. But that was before her Master gave her an electric refrigerator. Now she's a demon for quantity buying and beforehand cooking.

All Bigby sees is—plenty of ice . . . lightning-fast freezing. And low cost.
No wonder! Consumption of electricity has been cut way down. And the refrigerator—added to other Busby electric servants—has a mighty nice effect on the electric bill. While their comforts go up, the average cost goes down. All of which proves it's wise to be happy—use more electricity.

PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC COMPANY

Electricity—Cheap—in Quantity

Lower Merion viewed with pride the efforts of Coach Adam's football team last Saturday on Pennypacker Field as the boys completely outplayed a scrappy Haverford High eleven by a score of 18 to 0. Haverford has proved her right to be rated high in Suburban circles by virtue of a victory over Radnor and a tie game with Norristown. Although Allie Cornog's minions were unable to do much in the way of scoring against the Bulldogs, their play was anything but futile. They flashed power and deception on several occasions and if Butch Farina had been given a little more help he would undoubtedly have crossed the Maroon goal line.

The Lower Merion team looked much better than at any previous time this season. The end play showed great improvement over the past week and the backfield was clicking.

The coaches and players should be congratulated on the first scoring play of the game in the fading moments of the first quarter. It was a thing of beauty and its deception and successful execution lifted every spectator to his feet as the cheers echoed from the hillsides. The play was a short basketball pass from Captain Joe Stinger to end Bill Strong, who caught the pass high in the air and with a half twist shot a lateral to Dom DiBattista on the far side of the line. It went for forty yards and a touchdown without a single hitch. If it had not worked it would still have been a beautiful effort.

Captain Joe Stinger was the outstanding player on the field. His heart is still the heart of a lion and he will yet become one of Lower Merion's great football captains.

Dick Miller played a much improved game after he went into the line-up. His work at Abington was not so good, but he ran the ball for many gains and blocked well in the Haverford game. The plays were well chosen and the team again looked like the effective combination that it should be. Lower Merion should not have lost a game this season. Perhaps it took the tie with Easton and the setback at Abington to bring out the real power that is present on the squad.

Williamson Trade School comes to town tomorrow for a football game. Just why, we don't know, for certainly Lower Merion has no real reason for scheduling battle with the Media school. Perhaps it is because Russ Byerly, assistant Lower Merion coach, learned his first football at that institution. Anyway, it's Williamson Trade, and wouldn't it be a shock if the visitors happened to win from "our boys."

Dick Mattis sent his boys into the Rittenhouse game last Friday with instructions to win the game. They did, by a score of 14 to 12. The Orange and Black worked hard, but consistently, for the two touchdowns they scored, but a couple of lapses during the last half enabled Rittenhouse to score twice on runs of 70 yards. Captain Garde Goas, heavy Lower Merion tackle, saved the day with his broad toe. His two kicks for extra points split the uprights. Chester away today.

Hedgerow at L. M. High Nov. 3 in "Twelfth Night"

"The Toast of New York," showing Monday and Tuesday, presents that bluff, hearty rascal, Edward Arnold, as Jim Fisk, Wall Street's prize buccaneer, who engineered "Black Friday." Cary Grant, who starred in "Topper," and Frances Farmer and Jack Oakie help make this story, based on "The Robber Barons," a notable picturization of pioneer railroading and of New York in the sizzling sixties.

For Wednesday and Bank Night the Egyptian has succeeded in booking "Bad Guy," the timely object-lesson on the folly of freeing too easily a law-breaker on parole. Thrilling escapades in love and lawlessness are staged by Bruce Cabot, an electric company's trouble-shooter.

Joval Guy Kibbee inherits two million dollars and many a care, in "Big Shot," coming the end of next week. And to culminate the anniversary celebration, Saturday, the 30th, the public is invited to come masked and compete for fancy-dress prizes—cash—at the big Halloween Midnight Ramble, starting 11:30 P. M. A surprise screen show, and souvenirs and cider, and Uncle Ezra of radio fame, a hill-billy orchestra, a parade, apple-dunking, pie-eating and other contests. No advance in admission, and no extra charge to those who attend the regular show that ends at eleven or so.
